

Write a poem for International Women's Day, 2013

Topic can be anything

Take 5 minutes to think about what you want people to know about you or what you want to say.

Then just write, it can be a list of words, a string of words, verses

Eg:

Listen to my Words

I called for help
You turned away
No help from you
This cold cold day

My son was hungry
My daughter sick
No sleep for us
Just the policeman's stick

He pushed us along
Said you can't sit here
Couldn't be bothered
To see my tears

Or the marks on my face
The rips in my shirt
The messy hair
My clothes stained with dirt

We just want love
And warmth and food
A place to stay
That is safe and good

A home that is safe
No need to hide
From fists that hurt
And words that lied

Who is listening?
My words in the wind
I won't stop yelling
Till you see your sin
